[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE NEWS.]

COLUMBIA, Tuesday, February 14. The facts of the wholesale mob-murders in Union County seem to be about as follows: A number of mounted men-supposed to be about five handred-appeared at Union Courthouse about 12 o'clock Sanday night, and proceeded to the jail. They demanded the keys from Jailor Hughes and Deputy Sheriff Hill, who refused to surrender them. Mrs. Hughes was then catechised as to the whereabouts of the keys, but being greatly alarmed, did not answer-merely pointing to a bureau, where they were deposited. The drawers were immediately opened, the keys obtained, the jail doors opened, and ten colored prisoners (ander indictment, for the Stevens murder) were carried to the hanging ground—about a mile and a half from the town—when six of the party were shot, two hung, and two "turned up missing." The jailor and deputy sheriff were carried off from the jail about a mile, and tied in front of the sheriff's residence. After the jailor had been bound, a letter, carefully written, was placed in his pocket, signed K. K. K., and containing these words : "Whereas, it is doubted that Thomas intended removing the prisoners from a place of fair trial, the people were compelled to administer justice themselves." "Let not thy right hand know what thy left hand "Moloch will have his victims even if Michael of Justice must have his martyrs !"

Sheriff Dunn, of Union, reports that the name of the persons shot were Bill Fincher, Joe Van Lean, Bart Edwards, Ellison Scott, Thomas Byers and Aaron Eustis, and of those hung Sylvanus Wright and Andy Thompson. There is no cine to the perpetrators. A writ of habeas corpus had been served upon Sheriff Dunn to bring three of the prisoners before Judge Thomas, in Columbia, but owing to some infor mality had not been obeyed. The lynching has caused great excitement in Columbia, and is unit versally denounced as an infamous outrage by all classes, irrespective of politics.

He told them that he would communicate with the General Assembly in writing, and advised that a joint committee be appointed, irrespec tice of race or politics, to proceed to Washington and lay the case before the President, and demand troops for the public protection. The train with the paymaster for the Greenville and Columbia Rathroad was fired into four miles from Columbia this morning. The engineer, named Gribble, was fatally and two colored men slightly wounded. The train returned. The purpose of this attack, it is supposed, was robbery. The attack was made by a man at the side of the track with a shot gun. The sheriff has arrested a man named Hornsby on suspicion. There was, unfortunately, a dimculty in our There was, unfortunately, a dimiculy in our town, on sa urday, which resulted in the death of Henry Nash, a colored man, one of our county commissioners. An alterestion sprang up between him and two young men. L. F. Connor and J. M. Moore, at the back door of one of our stores, no one being present to hear what was said. Firing of pistols commenced, Nash retreating, the other two pursuing, firing at him, and he rejurning the fire as he ran. I was at another thore about one hundred washe of and and he returning the fire as he ran. I was at another store, about one hundred yards off, and as soon as I learned what was going on I reshed out saidst danger—for he was running towards that store, and the firing being in shat direction—and succeeded in stopping it. Nash went into the store, and I followed him to see what injury was inflicted. He lay down upon the floor, and I requested Dr. Gary, who happened to be present, to examine him, which he did, saying that he was mortally wounded. During this excitement the young men left on horseback. I, as intendant of the town, issued a warrant for their arrest soon after, but they had fied. The next morning, early, a warrant was issued by Triailestice Hemphill, and put into the hands of the sheriff of the county.

sheriff of the county. Such occurrences are greatly deplored by all good citizens and lovers of peace and order. I give you this statement, as such occurrences are apt to be exaggerated. Two weeks ago there was an occurrence greatly exaggerated—the shooting of Ed. But er by Gilkerson. They were brought before the town council, and the two colored men who were present when the shooting was done festified, upon oath, that in their opinion it was purely accidental—that there was no quarrelling, purely accidental—that there was an an odificulty between the parties.

THE WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

COLUMBIA, Feuruary. 13. The sessions in both branches of the General Assembly to-day were of a protracted nature; and boisterous debates were frequent. A STORMY SCENE. Few persons, who are in the habit of visiting the senate, would have recognized in the clamorous assemblage of this afternoon and evening that generally peaceful and business-like branch of the General Assembly. The cause of the disturbance was, the question on the legality of Senator McIntyre's seat. The matter was called up about half-past 1 o'clock, and Messrs Hayne, Swall and Maxwell, occupied the floor of the Senate until 3 o'clock, on a question to indefinite ly postpone the committee report. A motion to adjourn, made at that time, was lost, and Leslie then took the floor, and held it until 8 o'clock this evening. He impassionately reviewed the whole case. The points made by him were, that it was not probable Mcintyre had sent in his resignation as postmaster when he said he did; and that he, in law and practice, held that office on November 10th, and that he also held a dip puty United States marshalship at and after the election. Maxwell's case was freely discussed in the early part of the debates, and quotafter the election. Maxwell's case was lreely discussed in the early part of the debates, and quoted as a reason why McIntyre should be seated.

Lesile explained that the difference in the two cases was: In Maxwell's case the contestant, a Reformer, had neglected to show that his resignation had not been received at Washington till after the election, and in McIntyre's case it is shown by a letter from the Postmaster-General that his resignation was received there on the 10th day of Navember. During the latter part of Lesday of November. During the latter part of Lesday of November. During the latter part of Les-lie's speech considerable confusion occurred through members attempting to wrest the floor from him for the purpose of forcing a vote. After a quarter of an hour's repeated rapping with the gavel, the chairman. Mr. Monigomery, restored "quiet, and on a call of the Senate it was ascertain-ed that a quorum was not present. Whittemore moved that the sergeant at arms be instructed to bring in absentees, and after some elapse of time the moved that six assistants be appointed to go through the city and arrest absent members. Annold moved to amend by inserting, "and bring supper in for the senators present."

During the absence of the sergeant atserms and his assistants several of the senators amused themselves by making speeches on various subjects, which they generally wound up by declaring they would stay until the first of March, but they would have a vote. Whittemore declared the scene disgraceful, and said that it was not common sense, but the crusions of liquor senators were compelled to listen to. Aralim—"About 90'clock several senators arrived, under the escort of the deputies. A quorum being preshe moved that six assistants be appointed to go ent sparring recommenced, and finally it came to a vote. Lesine and McIntyre not voting, a quorom did not vote, and another call of the roll was ordered by the chair. This time McIntyre voted for himself, and was consequently seated b: a vote of fourteen to three, just a quorum voting. The adoption of a motion to lay on the table a motion to reconsider prevents the matter being brought up hereafter, and McIntyre is consequently secure from further molestations.

THE LAND COMMISSION.

THE LAND COMMISSION.

The concurrent resolution requiring the land commissioner to make a full report of his transactions by the 15th instant, adopted in the House on Saturday, came up in the Senate shortly after roll-call, and elicited considerable spicy debate. Lesile said Delarge would not make a report, and even if he did, frauds were not put on paper, and the man that was mean enough to steal, would be mean enough to lie about it. Whittemore thought the easiest way to settle it would be to take the books of the commission and place them in the hands of a committee.

Lesile (smiling.) What book will you find the frands in? It was finally agreed to adopt the resolution, and should the commissioner fail to comply, to take legal steps to compel him to make a report.

FROM THE HOUSE.

The following bill and joint resolution passed by the House were received by the Senare, and read a first time: A bill to establish a new judicial and election county from portions of the counties of Barnwell, Edgefield, Lexington and Orangeburg, to be known as Alken County, and the joint resolution to confirm the appointment made by the superintendent of education of the State of South Carolina for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1869.

BILLS PASSED. The following bills and joint resolutions passed hird reading in the Senate, and were sent to the Bill to amend an act to provide for the appoin

House:

Bill to amend an act to provide for the appointment of a land commissioner, and to define his powers and duties; bill to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the conversion of State securities; bill to provide for the government of the South Carolina Institution for the education of the deaf and dumb and blind; bill to incorporate the Muntoon Chemical and Soap Company of South Carolina; bill to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of trial justices; bill to anthorize and empower the board of county commissioners of Darlington County to issue bonds to the amount of seventy-five thousand dollars; joint resolution directing part of a certain tax to be devoted to the erection of a courthouse and jail at Manning; bill to amend an act establishing a line beyond which the wharves shall not be extended; in the City of Charleston; bill to more effectually provide for the recording of all conveyances of real estate.

HOUSE-USURY LAW.

HOUSE—USURY LAW.

The most important matter in the House was the debate upon the restoration of the usury laws. Several speeches were made, among them the most able was that of Mr. Wilkes. The stand taken by him was that the repeal of that law had worked detrimental to the commercial, manufacturing and agricultural interests of the State, and hel made the State poor. Messra Dennis and Hunter opposed the measure, and peading discussion the House adjourned until 7.P. M. The bill to facilitate punishment of crime was also thoroughly discussed. Yocum said that the appointment of competent detectives under control of the attorney-general would be one of the greatest safeguards against outrages that could be established. Strange to say the up-country Republican members, who would be most benefited by the measure, were the most vigorous in opposing it, and it was finally laid on the table.

Crews submitted a petition from citizens of North Carolina requesting the General Assembly to Cause alives transit of fish up Broad River. Deanis "novel that the petition be granted, and that the fish be informed of the same. The speaker ruled the motion out of order, as its demand could not be carried into effect. It was then referred to the committee on grievances.

IMPORTANT INVESTIGATION. The following resolution, introduced by Dennis, was anopted without debate and sent to the BESOLUTIONS.

White introduced a resolution instructing the sergeant-at-arms to take an itemized inventory of all articles furnished for fitting up the hall of Representatives for the purpose of the safekceping of the same. This is the same old House investigation, only in a different shape.

Hurley introduced a resolution that a committee, known as the prison reform committee, be appointed for the purpose of communicating with the Prison Reform Congress, about to assemble in Washingto 1. Both resolutions were adopted and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

BILLS PASSED.

The following were read a third time and sent to the Senat: A bill to establish a new judicial and election county from portions of the Counties of Barnwell, Edgefield, Lexiogton and Orangeborg, to be known as Aixen County; a bill to provide for teacher's institutes; a bill to authorize the clerks of the Courts of Common Pleas to take testimony in certain cases: a bill to authorize the clerks of the Courts of County in Cast of the Courts of the Courts of County in Cast of the Courts of County in Cast of the Courts of County in Cast of Courts of C thorize the testimony in certain cases; a bill to authorize Henry C. Thomas be, and he is hereby, requested to furnish this House with said affidavit, on to-morrow, and with any other information touching said oremises, that may have come into his possession, and resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be served upon Judge Thomas to-night.

The mover of the resolution followed the introduction with a lengthy speech, in which he reviewed the up-country troubles, the alleged sluggish action of the State authorities, and criticised the action of the General Assembly on the late bill to call out the militia. In conclusion, he counselled immediate action and adoption of stringent measures. He was followed by several others in the same strain, whereafter the resolution was adopted, and the House adjourned.

THE LADIES' MEMORIAL FAIR .- Our readers are aware that there is now progressing, at Hibernian ifall, a fair, whose holy object should appeal to the hearts as well as purses of every Carolinian. The prime object of this fair, as we have repeatedly said before, but cannot too earnestly reiterate, is to procure a sufficient sum to remove the remains of sixty gailant men of this State, who wore the grey, and who died under the "Southern Cross" at Gettysburg. The attendance at this fair has not been as great as the case warrants. There should be a crowd, and a grand crowd, at Hibernian Ha'l every evening till the close. The tables are arrayed with a thousand attractive articles which can tempt the eye, and the ladies in charge, while enthusiastic in their duty, are neither persecuting nor extortionate. Among the most pleasing and novel features, we may mention at this time, more particularly, the mag nificent "art collection," embracing curiositles from all the habitable globe, and from some places never reached save by Dr. Livingstone. This department is administered by a most charming lady, whose wit is really the greatest wonder of all.

On some of the tables goods are really selling at prices cheaper than at the stores. The enterprising ladies conducting these tables are determined to realize a certain sum as rapidly as possible, and so charge for their beautiful and useful articles prices almost sacrificial.

There is every inducement to go to this fair. Patriotism calls; duty calls; bright eyes and lovely faces call; the voices of our dead call upon the living. We hope that Hibernian Hall, which is opened rom four in the afternoon till eleven at night, will be thronged this evening, an I continue to be throughd throughout the week. CONTRIBUTIONS. We are requested to make acknowledgments of the receipt of the following articles for Mrs. Wine-

Mr. John H. Holmes:
DEAR SIR—The gypsum submitted by you for analysis is the most remarkable I have ever seen for its freedom from impurities of every kind, containing as it does but one third of one per cent. of insoluble matter. If it can be supplied of similar quality it cannot fail to prove a great bood to Southern agriculture, as there is no crop to which it is not beneficial, whether applied alone or in conjunction with other manures.

Very respectfully, your obedient servani, (Signed) OHARLES U. SHEPARD, JR., M. D. Janli-wfm22
